

ROAD TEST to find the best!

Within the next few years, the STM will be purchasing articulated buses to improve the quality of customer service.

To make the right choice, the STM is currently testing two types of articulated buses for their comfort and interior layout. The trial runs will determine which design best serves the needs of transit users.

We welcome your comments!

---

---

---

---

---

---

---